Global Research Services

Getty Images' innovative online search platform identifies the precise mix of recency and relevancy, enabling users of our website to quickly find the right content. For your larger projects and campaigns, our global, strategic Researchers, Product Specialists, and Archivists can work alongside your team to help you and your brands find the perfect imagery.

Please let your Getty Images Account Executive know when you need us to help you tell your story.

The benefits of using the Getty Images' complimentary Global Research Services

- We offer one-on-one consultations and brainstorming sessions to better understand the scope of your large projects and content needs, to ensure we are providing the most relevant content in a timely manner.
- We can implement dedicated trainings for your teams to learn how to search and access content effectively through the Getty Images' website, giving you the tools to fulfill your imagery needs efficiently.
- We can guide your teams through the process of accessing offline content through collections such as the BBC Motion Gallery, ITN, NHK, and the NBC News Archives.
- Save time and resources. Our teams will dive deeper into our content to curate boards for brand library refreshes and large-scale, conceptual projects. Expect turnaround times of 24-48 hours (based on specific needs).
- With offices in Japan, Australia, Singapore, Brazil, London, and the US, we have a global understanding of territory nuances and industry trends.
- Leverage our expertise of rare and unique content to help amplify and differentiate all your stills and videos projects. From contemporary, creative content to analog historical materials, our team is well versed in every subject.
